

Roads to Rural and Vulnerable Population Health and Partners

Do you have an Interest in Global Health with Emphases on Rural, Far and Hard to Reach, and other Vulnerable Population in Liberia and Other African Countries? We have some factual ideas to share.

Please join us for an evening dinner and presentations by Dr. Jallah Kennedy (Epidemiologist and Public Health Scientist), Dr. Mohamed Keita, Armand Adon, and team about activities in Liberia and other locations.

Date: Saturday, December 2, 2017 at 4:30pm-8pm

Venue: 308 N Shore Rd, Absecon, New Jersey 08201

This is a FREE EVENT but DONATIONS [charity tax-deductible] are welcome to support our programs

We will provide data and plan for development of health and research programs mainly targeting:

- Primary health care delivery for rural, hard to reach, and vulnerable population
- Pregnant women and children
- Services by community/village health volunteers and traditional birth attendants in areas with very limited skilled health workers
- Teenage pregnancy
- Water, sanitation, and hygiene
- Agriculture (nutrition and food security)
- Education (Improving literacy programs)
- Infectious/tropical diseases
- Surveillance/screening programs
- Building mini-clinics/health outposts in villages
- Outreach/mobile clinics for many people in villages who are too sick to walk several miles to reach health centers.

If you are already providing and/or plan to develop services for people in rural, far to reach places, and other vulnerable population, we want to network with you or your organization with similar goals.
